WHO SUPPORTS US

20 MISSION SUPPORTERS

Flying Horse Farms is a proud member of the SeriousFun Children's Network, a global community of camps and programs serving children with serious illnesses and their families, always at no cost. Founded by Paul Newman, SeriousFun has provided more than 1 million camp experiences for children and families. Each member camp is an independent, not-for-profit organization dependent upon private funding.

Flying Horse Farms is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. All of our operating costs are underwritten by the generosity of others. We're funded by gifts from individuals, corporate partners, grants and foundations.

FROM OUR CEO

A PLACE TO heal

At Flying Horse Farms, we say we create magic. And we do! What I've seen after a year in my role is the best kind of magic there is...helping children with serious illnesses and their families heal.

At camp, whether for a weekend or a week, campers have the power to live beyond their diagnoses and do things they can't do anywhere else. Meet someone like them, sleep in a teepee, swim in a pool. They get to climb higher, sing louder, swim deeper. Our data proves children who come through our gates leave happier, stronger, and more confident. Magic.

And YOU make it happen.

This magic, this healing, is only possible through generous donors and partners who believe in the power of camp, adventure, and of saying "yes" to children who more often hear "no" because of their illness. It's possible because thousands of volunteers create an environment in which campers can explore fearlessly. It's driven by a program, medical, and facilities team who focuses on every little detail to make the complexity of overseeing more than 1,300 camper experiences feel like child's play — literally, and usually with a song.

In these pages, you'll see how we've turned your generous support into pure happiness and joy, as well as resiliency, improved medical self-care skills, and renewed potential. It's an impact that extends far beyond camp. It's an impact that is also understood and valued by our hospital partners. Where their care ends, our healing begins.

As one of our medical volunteers noted, "So many youth I talk to feel alone with their illness and feel they have to hide it from others. This can lead to worse outcomes. At camp they see they are not alone." This is the relief camp offers. This is the belonging you provide.

Thank you for believing in the magic of camp.

Thank you for making healing possible.

Nichole E. Dunn

OUR MISSION

Flying Horse Farms is a medical specialty camp that provides healing, transformational experiences for children throughout Ohio with serious illnesses and their families — at no cost. And while it may be just a week, camp provides a lifetime of impact.

Flying Horse Farms, located on 200 acres in Mt. Gilead, Ohio, was the first camp in the Midwest to become a full member of the SeriousFun Children's Network. Founded by actor, philanthropist and Ohio native Paul Newman, the Network is a community of independently managed and financed camps and programs creating opportunities for children with serious illnesses and their families. SeriousFun has evolved from one camp to a global community delivering more than one million experiences to children and families across five continents.

THE impact WE MAKE

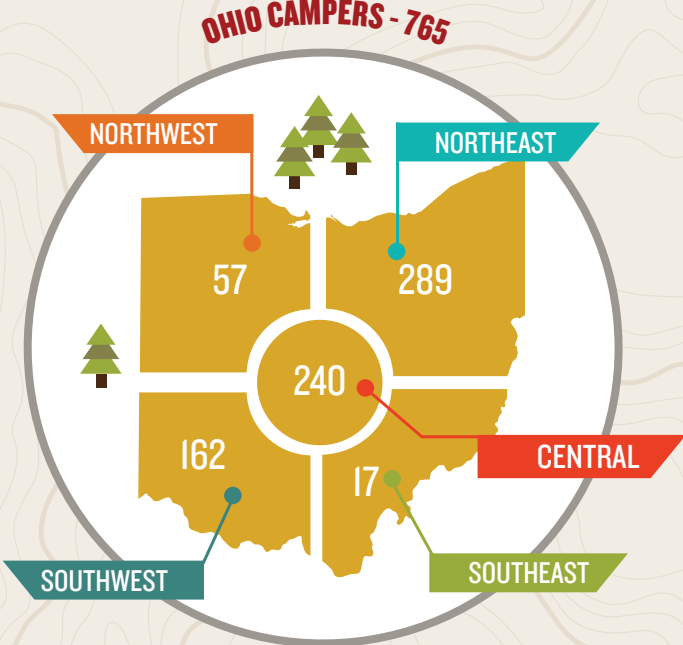

In 2018, Flying Horse Farms served more campers than ever: 901, including 644 returning campers and 257 new campers. We also conducted more than 400 camper outreach experiences outside of camp, bringing little doses of magic to campers throughout the year. Here's a look at who we served.

CAMP CELEBRATES ITS 100TH CAMP SESSION

On June 25th, 2018, Flying Horse Farms kicked off its 100th camp session. And while celebrating 100 sessions of campfires, cabin chats, s'mores, and magic is pretty exciting on its own, the week was made even more special by our extraordinarily generous friends — Mike “Beef” Repasky and Greg Henchel and Liza Kessler. Thanks to their help and leadership, camp raised more than $124,000 for our campers during our 100th Camp Session Campaign.

Beef, a long-time camp volunteer, first came to camp in 2014 while he worked as an associate at Abercrombie & Fitch. He returned several times, volunteering as a family sidekick for spring family camp and also as a summer cabin counselor. Each time, coming back for the kids.

“They’re awesome. For them, everything outside of camp is defined by their illness. Here, that’s not the case. They’re able to be kids again. Who doesn’t want to be a part of that?”

Moved by what he experienced at camp, Beef approached camp with the idea of making a $10,000 matching gift. And, he wasn’t the only one. Greg Henchel and Lisa Kessler also offered to donate a $10,000 matching gift after recently visiting the camp and being inspired to support its mission.

“Flying Horse Farms is a remarkable place,” said Greg. “All the work and effort that’s done for kids who don’t have another option to do all the fun, outdoor activities they do here is amazing.”

Though he wasn’t volunteering that week, Beef was able to attend the 100th session’s final campfire. The campers and camp team recognized him with signs and a celebration of his generous donation and spirit. But for him, the campfire was about more than just one night, it was about looking ahead to the future.

“Everyone carries a bit of camp with them in their heart whenever they leave. It’s cool to think about how much ‘camp’ is out there now after over 100 sessions. I like to think about how broad and deep camp’s impact will be in the coming years as that number reaches 250, 500, 1,000. It’s an exciting future to consider.”

Greg Henchel and Liza Kessler

To our Flying Horse Farms Family,

Our family started coming to Flying Horse Farms in 2013 and our lives have never been the same since.

My husband Kevin and I have three children together. Our son, Brayden, was diagnosed with reactive airway disease along with severe life-threatening food allergies by the age of two. When Brayden was only 15-months-old he had his first severe allergic reaction. He had severe eczema and had RSV (respiratory syncytial virus) at 6 months old. These were all precursors to his official diagnosis of asthma and a severe tree nut and peanut allergy. Brayden has been to Pulmonology Camp five times now.

Just a few short months after Brayden’s diagnosis, his little brother Ryan was born — another day that turned our lives upside down. He was born with a heart defect that blocked blood flow through his heart. He had his first surgery before he was even four hours old. Ryan has now attended Heart Camp four times.

Nineteen months later, we welcomed Samantha to our family. Thankfully, to this date, she is a healthy, spunky young lady who has a love for every person she meets. From the age of five, she has counted down to being old enough to come to Siblings Camp. She has been twice now and is already packing for this summer.

Since coming to camp, we have seen a difference in our kids. They are more confident, but more importantly, they advocate for themselves. They tell their stories with pride in their voice, instead of fear. They share their journeys and raise awareness for their diseases. Ryan has been to Washington D.C. three times to advocate and raise awareness on Capitol Hill for kids like him. Brayden attended his first food allergy awareness conference this year, joining hundreds of other kids living with food allergies. Sami has had the opportunity to bond with other siblings who have never had anyone else to talk to about having a brother or sister with an illness.

Flying Horse Farms has changed our lives. From the first time we all walked through the hole in the wall and every time since, we feel a sense of being home. A place where we can finally breathe and not worry about the next appointment, test, procedure, or if Brayden will be able to eat safely. Flying Horse Farms is the first place Kevin and I were able to let the kids go off with their sidekicks and not be afraid. It’s the place where my children smile, laugh, play, and just be kids. They try new adventures and make new friends every time. They come home rejuvenated and ready to take on the world. Camp is somewhere we can all go as a family to unwind, unplug, laugh until our bellies hurt and leave our worries. It’s a place we can call home.

“Thank you” is not nearly enough to the staff, volunteers and supporters of camp. I hope you all realize how much you mean to our family and how you have changed our lives. Thank you for always welcoming us home.

The Moore Crew

VOLUNTARY love

In 2018, 2,130 generous volunteers gave Flying Horse Farms 51,297 hours of service. Their giant hearts, open arms and boundless energy change the lives of our campers. Without them, this camp is not possible. We are grateful to count them as family.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE WINNERS OF OUR 2018 VOLUNTEER APPRECIATION AWARDS

CAMPERS FIRST AWARD - Given to a camp volunteer who embodies our "Campers First" credo in all he or she does.

WINNER: Mykal Jones

Mykal Jones, 25, came to camp in the spring of 2018 for the first time, came back to volunteer at four summer camp sessions and spent all five fall family camp sessions caring for our campers.

STAR POWER: Mykal's energy and ability to make authentic connections with campers is unique. She takes initiative and is all in when presented with a new role or responsibility.

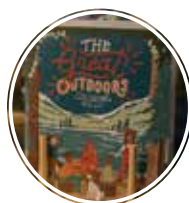

HEALER EXTRAORDINAIRE AWARD - Presented to the medical volunteer who provides care, healing and assistance to our campers.

WINNER: Dr. Steven Knox (aka Stove)

Dr. Knox, 30, a family medicine physician with Genesis HealthCare System, is a volunteer and advocate. In addition, he also serves on camp's Medical Advisory Board.

STAR POWER: Dr. Knox spent three camp sessions volunteering with our medical team. He also volunteered as a cabin counselor, family sidekick and fishing activity counselor at other camp sessions.

COOL AWARD - The Community Outreach & Organizational Liaison Award is for an advocate who shares our story and engages new donors, fans and volunteers.

WINNER: Creative Babes

Creative Babes exists to provide experiences and spaces that celebrate connectedness through storytelling, collaborative projects and creative experiences.

STAR POWER: Thirty artists took a tour of camp to gather inspiration for the annual Creative Babes coloring book, which was sold to the public with a portion of the profits benefiting Flying Horse Farms.

NUTS AND BOLTS AWARD - For the facilities volunteer who provides heart, knowledge and good old-fashioned elbow grease to help keep camp beautiful.

WINNER: Mark Shafer

Mark, 60, is the owner of Goodrich Asset Management, an investment advisory company in New Albany, Ohio.

STAR POWER: Mark spends hours on the mower each season helping to maintain 48 acres of grass. He also helps our facilities team with projects around camp.

ALL WORK, NO PAY AWARD - Given to honor the administrative intern/volunteer who provides assistance in the world of copying, filing, alphabetizing and other important office tasks.

WINNER: Abby Zebula

Abby, 20, is a student at Penn State studying accounting. She spent time in the summer of 2018 assisting our finance team with income and expense reports.

STAR POWER: Abby's time at camp was spent learning from and assisting camp's accountant to reconcile accounts each month.

ALL ABOARD AWARD - This is awarded to a board member who embodies our core values in and out of camp.

WINNER: Mike Bonadies

Mike, 56, is a volunteer, advocate and board member. This year, Mike volunteered during a fall family camp session with his wife, Fran.

STAR POWER: Mike earned the nickname "Cool Mike" when he first came to camp, and he lives up to it in every situation whether he's covered in paint with campers or working with the board's development committee to drive fundraising.

CHEYANNE'S RISING STAR AWARD - Recognizes a young philanthropist—a volunteer younger than 18 who already values service in the community.

WINNER: Piper Reischman

Piper, 3, was diagnosed with juvenile idiopathic arthritis in April of 2018.

STAR POWER: For her third birthday in June, Piper invited friends to donate gifts to Flying Horse Farms instead of gifts for herself. Piper and her parents delivered $1,100 in gifts from camp's Amazon.com wish list during the week of camp serving children with Piper's same diagnosis.

CRAIG CAMPBELL, SR. AWARD - Named after longtime dining hall volunteer Craig Campbell Sr., this is given to a dining hall volunteer who helps serve, cook, wash and keep our bellies full.

WINNER: Sue Schafer

Sue, 68, is an accountant at Hord Livestock, Co. in Bucyrus, Ohio, who volunteered in the kitchen at five sessions of camp at 2018.

STAR POWER: Sue is hardworking and generous. She volunteered in the dining hall over the summer and secured a donation of $1,500 to fund kitchen equipment.

HELPING HANDS AWARD - Given to a work-day group that has been outstanding as "Camp Creators"—making beds, cleaning cabins, picking up the grounds and making camp look amazing.

WINNER: Del-Co Water

Del-Co Water is a nonprofit corporation with a mission to provide high quality and safe drinking water to its customers.

STAR POWER: In the spring of 2018, Del-Co brought their entire company to help prepare for summer camp. The Del-Co team has skills and equipment that allows them to support camp's facilities team beyond regular cleaning and maintenance such as helping us fix a computer that manages our pool's chlorine levels.

GOLDEN PLUNGER AWARD This is our "best of" award, given to honor the Flying Horse Farms volunteer who embodies the overall spirit of volunteerism by living all of our core values.

WINNER: Sarah Kersey

Sarah, 31, is a third grade teacher at Wyandot Elementary in Dublin City Schools. At the age of 21, Sarah was diagnosed with cancer on her spine. She had surgery to remove most of the tumor but lives with the possibility that her cancer could return.

STAR POWER: Sarah has been a camp volunteer since before camp opened its gates in 2010. In 2018, she volunteered at 8 camp sessions. She was also honored as one of four finalists from across the country for the NASCAR Foundation's Betty Jane France Humanitarian Award.

by Mykal Jones, Campers First Award winner

WHERE I BELONG...

During my first camp session, a family camp in the spring of 2018, a camper gave me a hug and said,

"Thank you for making this the best weekend of my life."

I was lucky enough to see him again during a summer camp session, where I learned his family had specifically requested me to be one of his counselors. His parents shared that after a particularly hard day at school, he told them he couldn't wait to go back to camp and see me. It was the first time I fully understood what it meant to be a camp family.

The kids at camp have changed me and impacted my life in big ways. They've taught me the difference between feeling sorry for someone and being compassionate. Through camp, I know these kids are strong, and they can do anything.

Before I went to camp, I was working toward a business degree. While I was also interested in special education, I wasn't sure it was the right path for me. After volunteering at camp and experiencing the special connections I made with campers and their families, I know that's where I belong.

I'm now a middle school aide where I work with special education students. I'm also working toward my degree in early childhood education with a focus on moderate to severe special education. I'll graduate in 2023.

To me, camp is family. Camp has changed the course of my life, and I'm grateful each time I drive through the gates and am welcomed home.

Lead sponsors: Newman's Own Foundation, Chuck & Char Fowler, Red Roof Inn, Jackie & Fred Rothstein, Kathy & Alan Starkoff and The Ohio State University.

MORE CAMP ALL YEAR LONG

In 2018, Flying Horse Farms provided camp experiences to 901 campers and their families — the most ever! Camp also continued to build its camper outreach program, connecting with campers and families more than 400 times outside camp's gates at concerts, events and celebrations throughout the year.

BETTY JANE FRANCE HUMANITARIAN AWARD

Sarah Kersey, one of camp's longtime volunteers and a cancer survivor, was a finalist for The NASCAR Foundation's 2018 Betty Jane France Humanitarian Award. One of four national finalists, Sarah's volunteerism was recognized nationally and honored with a $25,000 award for camp.

NEW FRIENDS OF CAMP

Partnerships at camp grew in 2018 as we welcomed fundraising opportunities with businesses and organizations who are making a difference in our community. Thank you to Covelli Enterprises for including us in its register round-up campaign, to Cover My Meds for providing backpacks and items to be distributed to our 2019 campers and to Creative Babes for the incredible illustrations and artwork in its annual coloring book.

100% SERIOUSLY FUN

As a member of SeriousFun Children's Network, Flying Horse Farms is required to comply with an internal set of standards. In addition to an annual self-assessment, an onsite visit is conducted every five years to verify the over 340 items, including medical policies, staff and volunteer training, and camper safety. After a two-day review, Flying Horse Farms received a 100% on all areas of the criteria visit. We're so proud of our team and its commitment to our mission and our campers!

AROUND THE WORLD & ACROSS THE UNIVERSE

The program team at camp is highly intentional when selecting the annual camp themes. During family camp sessions, programming focused on introducing campers to songs, traditions and meals from SeriousFun camps Around the World while providing family respite and connection. Summer campers hunted for dinosaurs and took trips in time machines during summer camp's theme of Across the Universe, with programming focused on teamwork and creativity.

INCREASED ACUITY

Two disease states were introduced at camp in 2018. During summer camp, our medical team provided care for campers with rare diseases (diseases that appear in 1 in 3,000 children or less) and cystic fibrosis.

A FRESH LOOK

Thanks to the generosity of the Belford Family, a new sign was installed at camp's front gate in 2018. We also received a camp car from our friends at Tanksy Sawmill Toyota to get us where we need to go when we travel throughout the state!

WOODSHOP PILOT PROGRAM

Rangers were introduced to the pilot program for camp's new "HappyTimes" woodshop to open in the summer of 2019. The program included use of a circular saw to cut wood pieces to be used as benches and hand tools to create wooden chopsticks. Thank you to the Derrow family, Geissbuhler family, and Ohio Heating and Anderson Concrete for making this dream a reality!

A camper's journey is made up of a million milestones— each one made possible by our supporters, just like you. Thanks to each one of the individuals, corporations, foundations and organizations that propel our work forward, we are able to offer healing, transformational experiences for children with serious illnesses and their families— always free of charge.

The following list reflects cumulative giving of $250 or more (cash, pledges, gifts in kind and soft credits) received between January 1, 2018 and December 31, 2018. We have made every effort to include and list all donors accurately in this report. We apologize for any inadvertent errors or omissions. To report discrepancies, please contact our Director, Development Services & Analytics at 419.751.7077.

BARN RAISERS

When Jenni and David Belford dreamed of building a SeriousFun Children's Network camp in the Midwest, these donors rose to the challenge, invested in our mission and set out to transform the lives of children with serious illnesses. We are overjoyed to recognize donors who have given over $1,000,000 cumulatively (or, as we like to call them, Barn Raisers) for their role as visionaries, dream builders and mission sustainers.

I MAY FORGET FACES
I met at camp, but
WHAT I LEARNED ABOUT BEING HEARD & STRONG
will always be with me.
